Bill to Go to Caucus of the Senate Democrats

NO DEFINITE
DATE FIXED

By the Finance Committee,
Which Is Considering
Reports

Washington, June 14.—With majority members of the Senate finance committee continuing to approve reductions in tariff rates of the Underwood bill and transfers of articles to the free list, the measure is rapidly being put into shape for the senatorial Democratic caucus. Yesterday an effort was made by the steering committee to fix a definite date for a caucus. Majority members of the finance committee expect to have the bill ready for the caucus by the middle of next week. They resumed consideration yesterday of sub-committee reports. The Williams sub-committee worked late on Thursday night in an effort to solve problems presented in the administrative section of the bill to report again to the majority.

ALASKA STEAMER WRECKED.

The Yukon Runs on Sannak Island—All on Board Saved.

Washington, June 14.—The steamer Yukon, from Seattle to Nome, was wrecked on Sannak Island, near Unimak Pass, on the night of June 11. The revenue cutter Taloma took off her master, the crew of 44 men and six passengers, and took them to Unalakleet. No lives were lost. A wireless report was received here yesterday by Capt. E. P. Berthoff, commanding the revenue cutter service.

ENGINEER CLAIMS AIRBRAKES FAILED

When He Applied Them They Did Not Work, Says Engineer in Stamford Accident.

Stamford, Conn., June 14.—Declaring emphatically the brakes failed to respond properly; that he had tried to take precautions and had done all he could to avert the accident, Engineer Charles J. Doherty told a dramatic story yesterday at the inquest into the wreck here Thursday night by the ramming of the first section of the Springfield express by his engine drawing the second section of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, which resulted in six deaths and injuries to many others.

Doherty said he first discovered the airbrakes in trouble at Norfolk and because of that fact applied them sooner than ordinarily.

When he saw the signal set against him at Stamford, he gave the brakes more air. When that did not work he "let her have the whole thing."

That failing he threw on the emergency brake and applied sand, but could not stop.

"That's all I could do," he cried. Fireman Harry Smith corroborated Doherty's testimony. The inquest will be resumed today.

13 UNLUCKY FOR COAL CO.

1,300 Miners Strike as 13 Workers Fail to Pay Union Dues.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 14.—Friday, the 13th, was unlucky for the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Co. Thirteen hundred miners at the South Wilkes-Barre colliery walked out on strike yesterday morning. The suspension was due to the failure of 13 workmen to pay their dues in the miners' union.

END MARTIAL LAW IN COAL DISTRICT

Governor Restores Power of the Courts
—Action Taken as Admission of Guilt.

Charlestown, W. Va., June 14.—Martial law ceased to exist in the feud-ridden coal fields of West Virginia yesterday. The last uniformed militiamen abandoned the Paint and Cabin Creek districts and in their stead the rule of the civil authorities was restored. Yesterday the sheriff of Kanawha county was the chief peace officer of the troubled region where civil war has reigned for more than a year.

All offenders against the law will be punished from now on by the constitutional courts of the state. By a proclamation issued by Gov. Hatfield, the power of the courts was restored. And the Senate committee on the ground investigating the allegations that the constitutional rights of citizens had been ruthlessly violated, accepted the action of the state officials as an admission of guilt. The subject of the first section of the inquiry ordered by the United States Senate has, therefore, been closed by the inquirers. They will report to the Senate that the civil authorities failed in their duties to safeguard the rights of the miners.

POLICE ARREST I. W. W. LEADER

SUNDRY BILL MAY CAUSE A FAMINE

Immigration Bill in the House Again Yesterday

Washington, June 14.—Wholesale reform in the congressional appropriations, to systematize the government expenditures and reduce their total, will be urged at a caucus of House Democrats, which will be held June 25. Democratic leaders say they are determined to break up the loose practice of unregulated appropriations by numerous committees.

Under a budget committee plan agreed upon by Representatives Underwood, Fitzgerald, Sherry, Garret and other members of the recently appointed caucus committee on budget, all supply bills emanating from the appropriations committee, as well as from the committees on naval affairs, military affairs, rivers and harbors, public buildings, postoffice, pensions and others, would be brought under a central supervision, based largely on suggestions of Representative Sherry.

The idea is to have a "standing committee on budget, to comprise two members each from the ways and means, appropriations and rules, and the chairman of each of the other House committees which report appropriation measures. This committee would report at the beginning of each session of Congress the maximum to be appropriated by that session of Congress and the allotment of that total among the various committees affected.

Immigration Bill in Again.

The Burnett-Dillingham immigration bill, proposing a literacy test and drastic changes in the present immigration laws, will be reintroduced by Representative Burnett of Alabama. "I have made a study of the bill," said Mr. Burnett, "and I find that it stands nearly three to one in favor of an immigration restriction measure." The Senate passed this bill over President Taft's veto in the last Congress, but the House failed by a narrow margin. The literacy test clause of the measure would require immigrants over sixteen years of age to be able to read English and some European language or dialect. Exceptions would provide for the immediate families of American citizens. Persons who are ineligible for naturalization, except those who might come in under existing treaties, would be barred.

WILSON CRITICISED BY SENATOR GALLINGER

Threat to "Hang" and Proposed Investigation of Industries That Reduce Wages, Cited as the "Worst Possible Influence."

Washington, June 14.—President Wilson's name, in connection with "White House influences" for the tariff bill, was brought before the Senate today by Senator Gallinger, who said the president had come "perilously near lobbying" in some of the things he had done relative to the tariff bill.

Mr. Gallinger did not make a direct charge that the president had "lobbied" for the tariff bill but the intimations in his testimony were taken by Democratic senators to be so bored that they subjected him to a long cross-examination on the subject of White House influence.

Senator Gallinger's statements caused a sensation. He was about to leave the stand when Senator Reed asked a final question.

"When a man says that he would 'hang some one as high as Haman' if that person 'did certain things,' said Senator Gallinger, 'and that an industry which proposed reduction of wages and did so would be investigated, I think that is about the worst kind of influence I can imagine.'"

"What do you think of a public official that gets up a scare about an insidious lobby?" asked Senator Nelson.

"That he intends to influence public opinion and the opinion of public men," returned Senator Gallinger.

"Would you regard it as a species of lobby?"

"From my inability to define the term to my own satisfaction, perhaps I would not like to say. It was a species of lobby influence."

"It was an intimation that men are afraid to use their own judgment lest the people suspect them of lobbying?" persisted Senator Nelson.

"It so impressed me," replied Senator Gallinger.

"I am an old fashioned person," continued Senator Gallinger. "I still believe in the three co-ordinate branches of the government, and it grieves me to see the executive encroaching on the powers of the others and attempting to influence legislation."

"The president has a right to make his statement in messages to Congress."

"You do not want to charge that the president of the United States has brought any kind of coercion to bear on any member of Congress."

"I would not undertake to do so, I have no disposition to criticize him unfairly."

Mr. Gallinger added that he did know many Democrats were complaining because more offices were not filled and more nominations not sent to the Senate.

"You don't mean to intimate that the president is holding up appointments to compel them to vote for legislation they do not deserve?"

"I make no charge."

KING IN TERROR OF SUFFRAGETTES

George Cancels Arrangements for Garden Party, Fearing "Interference."

London, June 14.—The suffragettes yesterday received a sort of royal recognition, when King George, at the eleventh hour, canceled all arrangements for the big garden party that was to have been given at Windsor castle June 21, following the Ascot racing season.

Apprehension of suffragette interference was the reason semi-officially given for the cancellation. The invitations to the royal party had been engraved and addressed, and were to have been sent out yesterday.

When the trial of the suffragettes charged with conspiracy was resumed at the Old Bailey yesterday, Attorney McCurdy made his opening statement to the jury in behalf of Misses Agnes Lake, Rachel Barrett and Laura Geraldine Lennox, business manager, assistant editor and sub-editor, respectively, of The Suffragette.

He urged the jurors to consider that nine-tenths of the work of the Women's Social and Political union is constitutional and unassailable. Militancy, he said, is only a small part of their work.

REPRESENTATIVES

IN FIRST FIGHT

One Legislator Knocks Down Another, But the Fighters Were Then Separated.

Springfield, Ill., June 14.—There was almost a riot in the House of Representatives last night, when Representative Thomas N. Gorman knocked down Representative George H. Wilson.

It was the first outbreak of bad feeling that has been growing for several days.

Members separated the two amidst an uproar.

CONGRESS AND THE CAPITAL.

Points Political and Personal and Some Light on Legislation.

Congress is not afraid of any "13" hoodoo. The House, marking time on tariff and currency, transacted no important business yesterday, and the journal of its proceedings recorded adjourned "at 12:13 o'clock on Friday, June 13, 1913." Sticklers for accuracy among the Democratic members insisted that the adjournment was at exactly 13 minutes after 12 seconds past noon.

Currency reform was discussed at the cabinet meeting yesterday in an effort to compose the differences of opinion among Democratic leaders on all essential features. Secretary McAdoo and congressional leaders are not in accord as to the extent the government should participate in the financial system. Mr. McAdoo is in favor of the government issuing all currency, while Chairman Glass is said to favor giving the proposed regional reserve association the right to issue currency in place of the existing national bank notes, which would gradually be retired.

Senator Poinsett Thursday asked permission to withdraw the name of former Senator Dubois of Idaho as one of the former members of Congress he thought might be in Washington to influence legislation. "In naming him I did him an injustice," said Senator Poinsett. "I was in error in connecting him with tariff matters."
